

Driving Licence Checks

TMC handles the entire end-to-end process of checking driving licences. Replacing cumbersome paper based administration, TMC makes use of a highly secure web based portal and an instant DVLA licence check to verify individuals' driving licence details.

All for just £2.50 per check, with no added fees.

How does it work?

1. You provide us with the details of each driver that requires a driving licence check.
2. All drivers will be asked to complete the DVLA Declaration to give their consent to the driving licence check.
3. Drivers can complete this via our app, by scanning in the front and back of their driver's licence, or they can do it online by providing their full name, address, date of birth and driving licence number. This consent is valid until the employee ceases to drive in connection with the company, or in any case, three years after the date of their consent. Employees can also withdraw their consent at any time.
4. Any drivers who fail to complete the declaration are chased by TMC until compliance is achieved. Mileage capture users will not be able to make mileage claims until they have consented to the licence check, adding a further incentive.
5. All e-consents are verified by the DVLA.
6. The DVLA licence check is returned in seconds.

Once an initial round of checks have been completed, we can manage the frequency of future checks based on the number of endorsements each driver has. If you are new to the service, we can even take in your existing data around points and endorsement and schedule in checks at the appropriate time. This will help minimise your costs and exposure to risk and ensure that every driver is licenced to drive at all times.

Employees can also add nominated drivers into the system, who will then be sent an email to complete their e-consent online.

Requesting, obtaining and collating information on dozens or hundreds of drivers is time consuming and requires significant amounts of resource to be committed by your business. By passing this task to TMC, you could significantly reduce operating costs.
